RE: Advanced training on professional development.

Participation in the scientific and pedagogical advanced training without research and methodological report is impossible.

After September 27, 2024, every participant will receive a collection of abstracts and a certificate via e-mail indicated in the participation form.

The event includes three ZOOM lectures:

June 11th, 14:30, lecture “Educated or happy: how the quality of education and the citizens' happiness index correlate”. Speaker – Osadcha Larysa Vasylivna, Professor at the Department of Philosophical Anthropology, Culture Philosophy and Cultural Studies of the Scientific-Educational Institute of Philosophy and Education Policy, Mykhailo Dragomanov State University of Ukraine, PhD (Philosophy).

The speaker about her lecture: We live in an era when education, relevant professional skills, and the ability to latently learn and adapt are extremely important. These are the building blocks of the social capital of a modern state, one of the most important components of civic well-being. According to 2022 data, Singapore, Taiwan, Japan, and South Korea showed the highest achievements in education. However, if we compare the results of another global study aimed at identifying the level of subjective well-being of citizens of different countries, we will see completely opposite results. The population of the Far Eastern countries, which underwent rapid modernization after World War II, demonstrates one of the highest levels of depression and anxiety in the world. So, is the choice of future prospects so narrow: to be educated or to be happy? Not at all. After all, countries such as Ireland, Denmark, Switzerland, and Finland have shown excellent results in both rankings. During the lecture, we will learn how the values of survival and self-realization influence the success and happiness of citizens; we will analyze the motto of the Finnish educational system: “You should study for the sake of life, not live for the sake of academic performance.”

June 18rd, 14:30, lecture “Inclusive environment: a modern glossary for the world of people with developmental disabilities”.

Speaker – Kozynets Oleksandr Volodymyrovych, Assistant Professor at the Department of Speech Therapy and Logopsychology of the Faculty of Special and Inclusive Education, Mykhailo Dragomanov State University of Ukraine, PhD in Pedagogy.

The speaker about his lecture: “Is it correct to refer to people with Down syndrome as 'sunny' people? What should we call someone who uses a wheelchair, and how should we talk about other categories of people with hearing, visual, musculoskeletal, and other disabilities? We will talk about all this at the scientific meeting.”

June 25th, 14:30, lecture “Time management and attitude to it in different cultures”. Speaker – Osadcha Larysa Vasylivna, Professor at the Department of Philosophical Anthropology, Culture Philosophy and Cultural Studies of the Scientific-Educational Institute of Philosophy and Education Policy, Mykhailo Dragomanov State University of Ukraine, PhD (Philosophy).

The speaker about her lecture: “The phrase 'Time is money' originated in the industrial era, when rural people began to move to cities en masse. It was then that the solar time rhythm common to all began to condense and individualize. The ability to plan time effectively has become a prerequisite for business success, mental health, and self-sufficiency. During the lecture, we will learn what the Eisenhower time matrix is; how to balance doing your favorite (but unimportant) and necessary (but unloved) things; how to synchronize the work of small groups and maintain a sense of satisfaction from the activity; how to calculate the timing of cooperation when interacting with foreign partners; how cultural affiliation affects the social sense of time.”

*A link to the online lecture will be sent to all participants after paying participation fees.
Online lectures will be saved.*
